

BUISNESS COMPETENCIES FOR HR

Army Institute of Management & Technology had organized a Guest Lecture on 26th of February at 15:30 hours in the seminar hall . The speaker for the lecture was Mr Rakesh Seth , Director International Consulting Professional Institute and Director & Chief HR mentor with REEOSYYS with more than 30 years of experience in the field of practicing HR, Consulting, Training, Facilitating, Teaching and Speaking at various platforms in India and Overseas.

Dr. Shruti Gupta, Deputy Director of Army Institute of Management and Technology felicitated the honorable Guest Lecturer Mr. Rakesh Seth. Manisha Sharma and Yash Bhadoria, students of MBA 1st year introduced the speaker to the audience.

In his lecture, Mr. Seth started on a very eloquent note and addressed the students about the new age Business Competencies for HR. He made the session very interactive with his lithe way of presentation by giving examples of real life personalities like Indra Nooyi, CEO of PepsiCo and very deftly also added the example of Satya Nadela, CEO of Microsoft . He shared their stimulating success stories of how they changed themselves with time to learn better. He very gracefully also taught the audience the real parameters needed to attain success by explaining the intonation of operating beyond the comfort zone i.e. *Stepping out of the comfort zone in order to grow.

Provided a gist on the actual meaning of vision, mission and values by stating the example of Nirav modi. An enthralling presentation was delivered where he imparted the students with the domain knowledge required in HR and marketing. The presentation also explained the two P's and four different types of leaderships. The Guest Lecture came to an end with Mr. Seth briefing the audiences about the power of Tech Savvy Generation. Utilization of whatever opportunity life provides an individual and making the best of it.

The session ended with students asking queries related to corporate excellence, standing against fears like being an introvert, qualities needed to be a suitable HR with augmentation of proper knowledge.

MBA 2017 batch student, Yash presented the vote of thanks to our lecturer. Overall it was a brilliant session where the students were fostered. Their minds we were stimulated with positivity and a more focused approach towards Business Competencies For Hr.
